Boer & Croon Corporate Finance joins Deloitte Deloitte strengthens its Corporate Finance advisory practice

Rotterdam, 15 November - Deloitte and Boer & Croon Corporate Finance (BCCF) have signed an agreement to join forces and continue as Deloitte Corporate Finance. BCCF is a successful M&A boutique with specialist knowledge in six sectors including healthcare, business services and the public sector.

With a team of 17 professionals, BCCF advises companies, private equity and public institutions on mergers and acquisitions, valuations and market regulation. By bringing the two teams together, the largest corporate finance advisor in the Netherlands is created with more than 100 professionals active in corporate finance, debt advisory and valuation & modelling.

Oscar Snijders, managing partner Deloitte Financial Advisory: "With its knowledge, experience and sector expertise, BCCF is a great addition to our financial advisory business. With this transaction, we are giving further substance to Deloitte's growth strategy.

Deloitte Corporate Finance is part of an international network of 2,000 corporate finance professionals spread over 120 offices worldwide. Her clients include private and listed companies and private equity.

Rolf Visser, managing partner of Deloitte Corporate Finance: "The agreement gives us the opportunity to bind an entrepreneurial team to us and together we are even better able to provide our clients with specialised advice. BCCF's sector focus fits in seamlessly with our own. In addition, BCCF's talent and culture match Deloitte's perfectly. The transaction underlines our ambition to be the preferred choice for both our clients and employees.

BCCF is a successful corporate finance practice with a leading position in a number of sectors. BCCF has a great deal of valuable experience, high customer satisfaction and realises a large number of transactions with its team of specialists.

Dagmar Enklaar, partner of BCCF: "By joining Deloitte we gain access to a large international network of colleagues. This enables us to continue doing business within a broader field of service provision. This enables us to specialise even further and to apply our knowledge and experience in a wide range of areas. Moreover, new personal growth and development opportunities are created for our employees.

In the coming weeks, both parties will take the necessary steps to bring the transaction to a definitive conclusion.
